McFARLANE TALKS TO MON. CROWD

Mentions Local Citizens and Reviews Record in U. S. Congress

Congressman W. D. McFarlane addressed a large first Monday crowd here Monday afternoon on the east side of the public square. He spoke for about two hours, telling the people about his services in the national congress.

Mr. McFarlane was caustic in his remarks about some of his Decatur and Wise county opposition, referring to them as "road runners" and "cheap politicians." He stated the utilities were after him, and mentioned the name of Mr. C. P. Dodson, who was the district manager for the Texas Power and Light Co. Mr. Dodson severed his connection with the T. P. and L. concern more than a year ago, and has been engaged in looking after his private business in Decatur and Nocona. Mr. McFarlane laughingly remarked "if the people thought C. P. Dodson would support me."

Mr. McFarlane branded the circular recently issued by Mr. Gossett, his opponent, as "all lies." He called the Gossett circular a "scandal sheet," and referred to Mr. Gossett as a lawyer without clients, a barrister without briefs, a traveling lawyer, who is ready to move whenever he picks up his brief case.

Mr. McFarlane stated he had letters, showing that he has the endorsement of the administration. Then he referred to the circular of Mr. Gossett as a scandal sheet, which he said attacked his record and character.

Mr. McFarlane paid his respects to the two daily papers in Wichita Falls, saying these papers were mad at him because they did not get control of a radio station in that city. The Times and Record had applied for the station, and were turned down by the seven-man commission, he said.

Mr. McFarlane referred to his important committee assignments.

He closed his appeal by asking the crowd to stand by the administration, and his candidacy for congress.

A Messenger correspondent, Stanley McCormick, better known to the readers of the paper as "Dr. Skygag," came in for a sound drubbing at the hands of Mr. McFarlane, bitterly criticizing Dr. Skygag's recent humorous article in the Messenger about the dedication and reception. McFarlane stated the people knew who "this Dr. Skygag is," insinuating that the articles were not written by McCormick.

After the speaking several citizens in the crowd went up and shook hands with the speaker.

Then McFarlane was accompanied around the square by John Gunn and Archie Cates, enthusiastic supporters of the congressman.

Garvin Home Coming Will Be Held Aug. 14

There will be a "Home Coming" at Garvin Sunday, August 14, and a big gathering of former citizens of that community is expected. This is an annual affair and a big time is expected. You are invited to come and bring a well-filled basket.

On the Street

By "Dique"

Bill Tilgman, former Decatur boy, now a sailor in the U. S. Navy, with the U. S. S. "Maryland," at Long Beach, Calif., writes in to the Messenger editor: "Please enter my subscription to the Messenger; hope it is as good as it was when I read it last." Further on in the communication, Bill informs us "A bit of interesting news is that we have been holding landing force operations here at Drake's Bay on a beach adjacent to a nudist colony."

Our long-time friend, Capt. Brown, who has been living in the great Greenwood country since Hector was a little pup, is now a full fledged resident of Delightful Decatur. It may require several months for the Captain to become acclimated, etc., to his surroundings, etc., but he will come around all o. k. in time, and become civilized. But the Captain will retain all his interests in the Greenwood section, and will be in and around his old home most all time. In fact, Capt. Brown now has two homes. Mrs. Brown and daughter, with the captain, are happily domiciled in the residence on South Trinity street.

A local young man, Bill Turner, is getting deserved recognition at the Gerald Mann political headquarters, in that young Turner has been selected to carry on the Mann campaign in eight counties in this section. Equipped with auto, literature, loud speaker, he left Monday morning to work out the counties in behalf of the Dallas lawyer who has made such a splendid campaign for attorney general, and is now in the run-off. Young Turner did some splendid service for Mr. Mann in this county in the recent election. Turner is a fellow of good address, a good speaker, and seems to know what it is all about in the political game. He is the son of Col. Frank Turner, of Bridgeport.

The coming reunion at Joe Wheeler park, south of Decatur, promises to be the greatest gathering of people ever held in this section. Word comes they are coming from all over north and west Texas; old timers are coming back, the descendants of the pioneers are to be here, to tramp the grounds which their parents trod when they were assisting in making this county a fit place in which to live. The old woods will ring with that old rebel yell, too, but it will be faint, as there are very few of that gallant band now living. Come, enjoy days of genuine fun and frolic. The gathering place, the most beautiful natural park in Texas, and remember the dates, August 10, 11, and 12.

Knew all along that Dr. Skygak would sooner or later get his No. 10 in it. He has been running loose too long. Recently he wrote an article about the opening or dedication of the new postoffice, mentioning, of course, the special reception, at the home of the local postmaster. Well, as stated the Doctor wrote his article. The "piece" created lots of fun among our readers, and copies of the paper were in demand. Several were poked, five got really mad. Skygak said more than one thousand people congratulated him about the article. Anyway, the eminent Doctor is now in trouble. Congressman McFarlane has taken notice of the article, having his attention called to it by friends in Decatur, and he is proceeding to say things about our correspondent. Skygak has been penning his pieces for the Messenger for the past twenty years, and this is the first time he has been called on the carpet. Can't say we are sorry for the Doctor. His fun has put him "in bad" with Congressman McFarlane. He was talking when he should have been listening, running a ridge when he should have been running a furrow.

All sorts of stories get afloat during a political campaign. The candidate

NOTES FROM THE COUNTY AGENT

Leaf Worm Infestation

The cotton leaf worm is making its appearance in several places in the county in threatening numbers. Coming this early in the year they could do a lot of damage to the present cotton crop. These worms can be controlled if you will begin poisoning early enough, at least before the infestation becomes too great. The poisons recommended as safe to use are calcium arsenate or lead arsenate. The calcium arsenate is the cheaper as a rule and just as effective. Either may be used as a dust or as a spray. As a dust use 5 to 8 lbs. per acre. Apply the dust in the early morning while the dew is on the plant. If used as a spray use 3 lbs. to 50 gallons of water. Keep the solution stirred. A mixture of white arsenic and dry lime or white arsenic boiled in water with sal soda or caustic soda is sometimes used but is not recommended by the A. and M. Extension Service as there is danger of burning the cotton. If a regular dusting machine is not available the old "poll and bag" method may be used effectively.

Cotton Subsidy Payments

Blanks for making application for payment of the cotton subsidy have arrived and are being prepared for signature. As soon as they are signed they will be forwarded to the State Office for payment. Checks should begin to arrive by the last of Sept. or during October. A schedule of dates for signing will be announced later and the growers notified. We have had several inquiries about cotton on which the government has made loans. The subsidy will be paid on this cotton whether sold or not. The date for sale has been set up twelve months. Anyone having a loan against his cotton can call the sale of the cotton at any time he chooses or just leave it alone and it will be alright. Subsidy payments will be paid on 60 per cent of your 1937 cotton allotment if other conditions have been met.

Summer Terracing

Dale Maceys has just completed a series of terraces on his farm 9 miles southeast of Decatur. Merlyn Gage recently built a couple on his farm 9 miles northeast of Decatur. Each week we are laying out one or two farms out in the small grain section. The two parties above mentioned used county equipment. However, others plan to provide their own equipment. Either method may be used. It is up to the farmers to decide whether he will use county equipment or provide his own equipment for constructing the terraces.

Trench Silos

The recent rains have, insured in many instances, a good crop of feed so there is renewed interest in constructing trench silos in which to store this feed supply. We have planned new silos on a couple of farms recently. One man plans a hundred foot trench in order to have a large enough supply to carry over silage for the hot dry summer months next year. Another stored barley in a trench, using water in putting it down. The barley came out soft and ready for use in feeding his hogs.

A. & M. Cooperative House

Many counties have provided one of the student cooperative house down at A. & M. College, where the boys from the county might live during the school year on a cooperative basis. In this way a group of boys take a lot of food and other materials from home and pool together and buy their groceries and other necessities in quantities, thus effecting quite a saving. By using this system these groups from the counties have cut the cost of attending A. & M. College about half. If there are boys in this county who would like to look into this plan if you will contact this office we will be glad to talk over the plan with you. We know of no better cause that might have the support of the Service Clubs of the county than to look forward to providing one of these cooperative houses at A. & M. College for Wise county boys.

One Variety Cotton Communities

The one variety cotton communities in the county have adopted a uniform constitution and by-laws here in the county and are submitting gin agreements looking forward to securing government classing service for their members this fall.

The Dallas office has been contacted to secure application blanks on which to apply for this service. If these farmers are successful in their efforts it will mean that these growers of improved cotton varieties will gin separately from other cottons, provide a supply of unmixed pure seed for next year, and be able to pool their cotton and sell it on a basis of grade and staple. If this proposition goes over it will depend wholly upon the cooperative efforts of the farmers involved. Should the old "Hog Round" method of buying cotton prevail here in the county this fall the farmers will be permitting the perpetuation of a system that has just about wrecked the cotton industry.

Mrs. Albert Fox has as her guest, Mr. and Mrs. Authon Adams, Jimmie and Bertha Fox of Winchester, Ky.

THE VOTE IN WISE COUNTY IN 1936:

Gossett	1,242
McFarlane	2,995

Ed Gossett, candidate for Congress, issued a circular in which he criticized the official acts and conduct of our present congressman.

Mr. McFarlane spoke for about two hours Monday at Decatur, in defense of the criticisms made, and repeatedly charged that "every word in the circular was false and untrue."

In order to keep the record straight congressman, how about the following?:

The circular charged "that you had accepted a large contribution from the Waggoner interests." In your speech you admitted that $500.00 was contributed by them and spent in your behalf, but that you did not know about it until after you made your report.

Was that charge "false and untrue?"

The circular charged, that you made a speech to Decatur citizens, in regard to awarding Decatur a postoffice bldg. in which you said, "what Decatur lacked in postal receipts they have made up in votes." Mr. Clay C. Lusk makes affidavit that he heard you make this statement and 50 to 75 other Decatur citizens will testify if need be, that they were present and heard it.

Was this affidavit and statement "false and untrue?"

The circular charged that a young man in Cook County stated that he was working for you "because you had promised him an appointment to West Point."

You admitted that you had recommended a young man, who was the son of a Republican rural route carrier, but that you did not know he was a republican till after recommendation.

Was this statement true or false?

Was the statement true or false that you apologized to the house of representatives to keep down impeachment charges because you were voting both your own voting machine and that of your desk mate, Mr. Greer?

And so on into the night.

We hoped the congressman would tell us something about the one million five hundred thousand dollar veteran's hospital that his friends have been telling us that he was going to build at Decatur, or the beautiful and expensive water works he is going to give Rhome, but he was so busy defending himself from Gossett's circular and abusing Gossett for going to the expense of printing and mailing it, that he forgot to tell us about the expenditure of a few paltry millions in our midst, and also forgot to tell why and how he, under date of June 16th, printed in the Congressional Record his speech, in answer to a speech made by Ed Gossett on June 29th, and by virtue of what authority he spent our money in franking this speech to us. Faith, and upon what meat do the ceasars feed, when they make us bear their campaign expenses?

Chamber Notes

Senator Grady Woodruff and E. R. Williams were in San Antonio Monday to represent the people of this section in a plea to the State Highway Commission for assistance in the solution of problems that must be solved before work can get underway in the several highway projects yet to be completed in Wise county. Right of way difficulties with respect to highways 2, 24, 89, and surfacing for highway 114, Rhome to Bridgeport, were special subjects which were discussed with the state commissioners. The committee had not returned home Tuesday night.

An application for the location of a contemplated World War Veteran's general hospital at Decatur was filed at Fort Worth Saturday morning with C. H. Stratton, special Washington investigator, by a Chamber of Commerce committee composed of J. C. C. Gunn, E. R. Williams and Cliff Cates.

The erection of the hospital will be $1,400,000.00. This community was not on the prearranged schedule of communities in Texas to be investigated, but urgency was brought in the Federal agent that he does so.

The hospital will be located on an area containing about 200 acres of land which the government proposes to purchase, and the brief submitted by the Decatur committee proposed several local available sites agreements on which had been arranged in advance.

At last accounts the investigator had not advised if he will visit and examine the proposed locations.

After six or eight years of effort the present city administration is showing that the mosquito plague in Decatur can be eliminated practically. Credit is due the entire council, the city manager and the mayor but special credit is due to Councilman Dodson to whom the work of supervision of council was entrusted.

The fellow who actually is "putting the bug" to the stinging insects is Clarence North and the fact that only a few mosquitos have been heard or felt in the several sections of town is conclusive evidence that he is working hard at his task. Manager Ball has asked that he be notified promptly of the presence of mosquitoes or of the existence of any standing water, leaky cellar or old well where the insects might abide. Unless the city has wholehearted cooperation complete control may not be attained.

Up to this date (knock on wood) life certainly has been sweeter in Decatur and if the town can go on into fall without the pests an outstanding triumph over one of the town's oldest and worst evils will have been attained.

Lee Hall, Denton Creek bottom general farmer and dairy farmer quietly announced in town Monday that he had the construction of his second trench silo underway, a unit that will accommodate 150 tons. His first one, built two years ago was of 50 ton capacity. Its operation for two years convinced him he needed one much larger. He proposes this year to fill both silos and to hold the small one for emergency, probably late summer feeding when the pastures are dry.

The pioneer trench silo builder in that section is Edgar McDaniel. In addition to regular use during the winter Mack has continued feeding silage into the summer substitute for green grass when pastures dried up. With the help of neighbors Lee Hall puts his silage away at a cost of 35 cents per ton. With all the labor hired the cost would be 75 cents a ton. He has forty acres of hegari now reaching the heading stage to go into his silos, that is part of it. The crop will make 15 tons an acre and even the two silos will not be able to take it all.

The Chamber of Commerce will be glad to have any rural people inform them of their interest in the construction of rural electric lines by and through the aid of government financing. The last congress made a large appropriation to assist rural people in gaining the valuable aid of electricity.

As the matter is understood projects must be of a certain or approximate scale to be considered, one provision being the requirement of three or more customers to the mile on a total mileage basis of seventy-five miles.

Surrounding counties are securing electricity. Wise county can hardly permit herself to drop behind in this respect. If sufficient interest is manifested a general meeting will be called at Decatur to investigate the possibilities.

THE CRAFTON H. D. CLUB

The Crafton H. D. C. women met Thursday evening, July 21 with Mrs. J. B. Harris, with eight members present and Miss Farquhar. The roll call was answered by "Country Things I Love." A demonstration on out-door furniture was given by Miss Farquhar. She told us how to make our yards a more suitable place in which to live part of the summer. The hostess served punch and cookies, which everyone enjoyed. The club adjourned at four o'clock.

Tuesday, Mrs. H. S. Usry and Margaret left by train for Littlefield where they will visit Mrs. Usry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Veal A. Douglass. Then they will go from Littlefield on to Dimmitt to be with Donald Usry, Mrs. Usry's son, who is editor of a newspaper there. Happy vacation to you, Mrs. and Miss Usry.

News Notes from Rural Communities in Wise County

Greenwood News

Mrs. Edd Tom and children of Lubbock are visiting friends and relatives here.

Mrs. Knox Quisenberry and children of Elk City, Oklahoma are visiting in our community.

Miss Ruth Griffith left Friday to visit relatives in Temple and Walters, Oklahoma.

Miss Ruth Coff, one of our school teachers is driving a new V-8. Miss Coff attended the Baptist Seminary at Fort Worth this summer.

Miss Mabel Harvey, with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Truett, are spending their vacation in west Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Lavern True are making the same trip, they plan to have lots of fun.

The revival meeting at the Methodist church closed Sunday night. The Pastor brought some fine sermons. He is a great preacher.

Euell Coff and family of Sulphur Springs visited in the community last week.

Albert McNeely and sons, Weldon and Clifton, visited relatives at Altus, this week. Clifton went on to Claude, Texas to visit an uncle there.

Several from our community attended the fifth Sunday singing at Decatur and at New Harp. Both groups reported good singing.

Mrs. Alice Raten and son of Turkey are visiting relatives here.

Several spoke in Greenwood Saturday. We had a fine group of county candidates this year. Heard several people say they wish it was possible to vote for each of them. There has not been one bit of mud-slinging in any of the speakings that we have heard.

Harvey Ezell and family of Singer visited relatives here Sunday.

Miss Beula May Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Owens, became the bride of Mr. D. A. Swope of Killen on July twenty-third. Miss Owens graduated from D. B. C. with the class of '34 and then continued her education at T. S. C. W. in Denton. Her husband is a graduate of Southwestern University in Georgetown and is now principal of the Gastine High School of Killen. The happy couple are now honeymooning in Galveston. The bride's many friends in Decatur wish for Mr. and Mrs. Swope the best of luck as they travel along the marital pathway.

Decatur Citizens Want Better Streets

The plea of the citizenship of Decatur for better streets will be answered affirmatively, and happily we might say if the people will respond with willingness and cooperation to the plan of the present city administration which has gained the approval of the Works Progress Administration of a city-wide street improvement project amounting in sum to $60,000.

City Manager Ball and council members and the mayor have worked for many weeks to get the project approved. It has not only been approved but the city manager has already pledged the cooperation of a number of property owners in the effort.

A working agreement among property owners, the city of Decatur and WPA is essential to forwarding the intrinsically important endeavor, the greater part of the financial burden falling on the federal government unit which will make its expenditures for work relief purposes.

Engineers have pointed out that in their experience in connection with similar programs in other Texas towns they have found no place in which the cost to the citizen, as well as the other units in the contract, will be as low as it will cost the property owners of Decatur for getting a durable type of high class surfacing laid on the streets skirting their premises. This is for the reason of the local abundance of construction material such as sand, gravel and stone.

In several other Texas communities the cost of the finished surface to the property owner has attained to $1.50 a running or linear foot, whereas in Decatur the cost will approximate fifty cents a foot based on a frontage of around thirty-six feet. Type of surfacing to be used is asphalt conglomerate now highly popular and durable in street construction.

Engineering and supervision will be furnished by the city. Decatur streets for the most part are admittedly desperately bad. Not only are they a drawback and handicap to all progress and comfort but their condition is having a serious bearing in holding property values to a low scale.

The plan that has been worked out by the city may be considered as a plan of last resort. The ablest among our citizens have found no other way that the improvement may be achieved other than that now offered by the Federal government. It is the opinion of members of the council, the mayor and city manager and other leaders who have the welfare of the city at heart that Decatur people who have one of the very best opportunities ever offered them for remedying one of the worst afflictions any community has had to endure for so long a time, the insufferably bad condition of most of the streets of Decatur.

Taylor Thanks Voters of Precinct

TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCT 1: Let me thank you for the nice vote that put me close to the top in the run-off. I also appreciate the kind and character of campaign made by each of my opponents. I did not do a thing or say a word against them and consequently I feel no hesitancy in asking for the support of their closest friends and relatives. I shall consider every vote a personal accommodation and if elected, will endeavor to repay them. There are lots of favors that the office can bestow upon the farmer, merchant, veteran and aged, outside of enforcement of the law. If I am your next Justice, ask me to do them for you.

NEWTON P. TAYLOR.
Candidate for Justice of the Peace, Precinct 1.

Dr. Skygak Receives Most Queer Offer

By Doctor Skygak
My mail this week brings a queer letter which I am herewith passing on to the reader. The letter, written on cheap pencil tablet paper in trembling, sprawling hand is as follows:

"Dear Doktor Skygak:—Las' week my husbin got his first set of faults teeth, an' jist as I tol' him all the time, re kain't use 'em to eat with to do no good. He tride to eat buttered cawn on the cob without usin' his teeth but the corn skidded so he cussed an gived up the idea. He got to whar every time he klm to the table to eat he puts hiss teeth in his hine pocket till he gits thu eatin'. He done this tother day at dinner an' somehow he didn't git the teeth in his pocket jist right an' they bit him. He has sent the teeth off down to Austin to have them zammimed for rabies an' I am powerful uneasy about him. If the zammimation shows they had hivy-foba (hydrophobia) he will probably go to actin flitified by nex' Toosday an' I will be forced to kill him to save his life. If I have to kill him he will make the third husbin I've kilt in the past three years an' I'm gittin' to whar I almost despize such a chore as hit musses up the house so bad.

"Now, what I want to know, Doktor, is iffin I has to kill my husbin to save his life, kin you find me a buyer for this set of teeth. Of course they have been slightly used an' won't bring as much as new but they still have lots of good wear in 'em an' will do fast rate for some new beginner to dub aroun' home with. I use 'em a great eel for krimpin' pie krusts, an' serh like but weuns don't have pie of-fer enuff at our house to jufity keepin' a set of faults teeth jist fer krimpin' purposes. Please let me heer frum you immedieately if not sunner about this matter as I am in desprit need of money to make a payment on my son-in-law's new sar.—Yourn trooly, Belinda Bottlelaps."

Dear Belinda: Yours is indeed a touching case and I will surely do all I can to help you find a buyer for those store teeth. There is very little hope that I can offer you just at this time as all my patients are so poor they are not eating anything but spoon victuals, soup, mush and gruel and consequently ed no need of teeth. Such of my patients are lucky enough to get corn on the cob to eat overome the skidding you speak of by running the ear corn through a sausage mill and eating with the same spoon used in the mush and gruel. You may rest assured that I will keep an eye out for a buyer for the bargain you are offering. Thank you for writing me.—Your friend in need, Doctor Skygak.

DECATUR HARDWARE CO.

This is the First Chapter on the Records of the Candidates for Congress

Compare the Record

McFarlane's Record

Age 44, widower with five children.

Four years in the Texas House of Representatives.

Was joint author of the gasoline tax and supplemental aid school bill; voted for regulation of utilities and to raise school aid from $10.00 to $15.00 per capita.

Four years in the Texas Senate, where he introduced and helped pass legislation for the oil, farm, livestock and labor interests. He led the fight to defeat the tax remission bills, saving over $15,000,000 to the tax payers.

As chairman of the penitentiary Committee he led the fight saving the state owned prison property valued at least $10,000,000.

He was joint author of the gasoline tax bill, building state highways through such funds.

He was joint author of anti-lobbying legislation to require members of the Legislature to state under oath their corporate connections and fees received.

Was opposed to special privilege legislation.

On this record he was elected to congress.

GOSSETT'S RECORD

Age 36, single, last 20 years in school and practicing law.

Returned to this district 11 years ago and has run for office four times within the past 11 years. District Attorney four years, from 1923 to 1927. According to sworn affidavits for this period of time his record as District Attorney is as follows:

	Ford	Hardeman	Willbarger
	No. Pet.	No. Pet.	No. Pet.
Felony Indictments
Filed	78	241	473
Dismissals on Motion of District Attorney	46 59%	114 57%	145 31%
Dismissals on Account of Repeal of Death Law	0	23 10%	16 3%
Acquittals	4 5%	9 4%	7 2%
Pleas of guilty	17 22%	48 20%	146 31%
Tried before Jury	25 32%	63 27%	131 28%
Suspended sentences	15 19%	31 13%	67 14%
Cases appealed	11 14%	15 6%	42 9%
Cases reversed	5 45%	13 87%	19 45%
Cases affirmed	6 55%	2 13%	23 55%
Sent to penitentiary
contested jury trials	12 48%	22 35%	52 40%

Thus, you see from the above record that about 41 per cent of the Grand Jury indictments he had returned on contested cases have ever been sent to jail. You will note that he dismissed on his own motion about 39 per cent of the Grand Jury indictments he had returned. You will further note that 54.4 per cent of the cases appealed were reversed because of a defective record. That out of 792 indictments filed, that only 86 were ever sent to the penitentiary and 305 cases dismissed on his own motion, which clearly shows that he dismissed the cases he thought he could not win, thus showing favoritism and even of the cases he tried, he could only get affirm, 41 per cent of the cases appealed.

NO LEGISLATIVE EXPERIENCE

No special aptitude for legislative action; none claimed; the constructive parts of his platform already the law.

Two years ago in his speeches throughout the First Primary, he stated he had mortgaged his father's farm to make the run-off campaign. Who is paying for this expensive campaign? The records show he has not earned enough to pay his living and office expenses since moving to Wichita Falls.

McFarlane Speaks in Decatur

Decatur, Texas, July 6, 1938.—Congressman McFarlane spoke to a large crowd here last Monday afternoon.

Mr. McFarlane reviewed the Administration's legislative program and pointed out that not one vote he had cast had been challenged as wrong. That he has supported the Roosevelt Recovery program and the platform upon which he was elected 100 per cent.

After reviewing his own platform for re-election, which included cost of production, plus a fair profit for agriculture, elimination of red tape and injustices to the aged, he pointed out that he had voted for $40.00 per month old age pensions and had signed petitions to immediately bring the general welfare act before Congress for consideration.

He stated the opposition finding nothing wrong with his legislative record, that "Gossett is attacking my character and thus trying to ride into office on what he alleges are my demerits rather than any qualifications he may have for this important office."

Mr. McFarlane referred to letters showing that he has the endorsement of the Administration and the leaders in Washington, including the different organizations representing agriculture, oil, labor and the livestock industries because of his record he made in fighting to protect their interests.

Mr. McFarlane then answered the three and eight page scandal sheets attacking his character, integrity and standing in Congress. He challenged his opponent to support by any reputable evidence, any of the statements made in either of these scandal sheets.

Answering charges made about the Horse Power bill, he pointed out that this measure was introduced by him at the request of representatives of different trade unions, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, who were anxious to place this subject before Congress because of the large numbers of their men thrown out of work in the industrial centers, due to the installation of automatic machinery. He read from the bill and showed that the intention of the bill was "to relieve unemployed workers deprived of work through the mechanism of industry" and the intention was to tax the automatic machinery used "in the production of goods for transportation in interstate commerce."

He pointed out that this measure was introduced more than a year ago and that two sessions have occurred since its introduction; that the bill is dead and could have no bearing on any legitimate issue in this race except to try to deceive the voters regarding same. Mr. McFarlane pointed out that the clear intention of the bill as expressed in the preamble, as well as in the bill itself, was to tax only goods manufactured and shipped from one state to another in proportion to the number of men thrown out of work. He denied that it was the intention of the bill to tax automobiles, trucks, tractors and machinery not directly engaged in manufacture for interstate commerce.

He referred to his record of service showing that he had never supported any measure and would not have voted for this measure, if it had reached the hearing stage. There was any doubt about protecting small industry.

Mr. McFarlane answered the different charges made by his opponent and pointed out that many felony charges were made by his opponent and pointed out that many felony charges were thus made and if his opponent had any proof justifying any such charges, it was his duty to file same with the proper authorities for prosecution. That such felony charges thus brought were a load over him as well as his children. That the failure of his opponent to substantiate these charges by reputable evidence should cause the people to repudiate him at the polls.

Mr. McFarlane read from the sworn uncontradicted testimony before the Federal Communications Commission which showed the facts regarding the ownership of the radio station at Wichita Falls, which testimony showed that the station was wholly owned by reputable Wichita Falls citizens, therein named. He stated that Leslie Humphries, attorney for the Texas Electric Service company was also the attorney for the Wichita Daily Times and the Wichita Record News, who were disappointed applicants for the radio station, their application not receiving a favorable vote by the seven-man commission.

Answering the charge made concerning the Decatur post office building, Mr. McFarlane called attention of the people to his visit two years ago, long after the primary, to Decatur at which time the announcement was made as to the location of the post office building at Decatur. Mr. McFarlane pointed out that if he had promised any community a post office or anyone else anything, in order to secure their vote, that it would be a felony and any one having such information—that it is his duty as a good citizen to file such information under oath to the proper authorities in order that the facts may be made known. He reviewed the many accomplishments of the Administration and the many projects received by Wise County, all of which he voted for and assisted in securing.

Mr. McFarlane referred to his important committee assignment and what it means to Texas in the 13th Congressional District. In securing needed funds for this section.

He closed his appeal to stand by this administration, whose humanitarian program has done so much for the masses of the people.

John A. Simmons Thanks the Voters

I take this method of expressing my sincere appreciation for the vote I received in the Democratic Primary, for Assessor-Collector; and I want to assure my friends throughout the county that my heart overflows with gratitude for your loyal support in my behalf.

Sincerely,

J. A. SIMMONS.

Sound Truck Will Be at Reunion

The identical sound amplifying equipment used at Wichita Falls and other places to carry the voice of President Roosevelt when he was in Texas recently has been placed at the disposal of the Reunion committee and will be one of the big entertainment and utility factors of next week's big gathering in Joe Wheeler Park.

Furnan W. Burton, sales and business representative of the Gulf Oil Corporation in Wise county, was instrumental in inducing the company to send one of its nationally known sound trucks to the reunion next week. The truck will remain here for all the days and all the programs of the event, under operation of one of the company's skilled technicians to entertain and edify the people at no charge whatever.

The truck with its equipment is one of the finest in America, one of units made for the special order of the company that distributes Good Gulf gasoline at a cost of fifteen million dollars. It will facilitate a crowd of 50,000 people and was used at the Dallas Centennial and San Diego Exposition among other places.

The truck carries a turntable and a library of recorded music suitable for almost any occasion. There should never be a dull moment on the reunion grounds next week with this fine equipment on hand. Neither should the voice of any speaker go unheard anywhere on the grounds, with the possibility present of voices being amplified by the same instrument that has conveyed the voices of President and Mrs. Roosevelt and vice-president John Garner.

Rev. Tucker's Preaching Drawing Large Crowds

The largest crowds for many years are attending the Methodist revival meeting, conducted by Rev. George Tucker, acknowledged to be one of the most spiritual and eloquent men of God coming this way in many moons, and he is awakening the people in Decatur and vicinity. Sunday night one of the largest gatherings ever seen at a religious meeting greeted him.

Subjects for meeting of the week: Thursday night, the great sermon, "The Unpardonable Sin."

Friday night, "The Broken Home." This sermon is dedicated to the young life of Decatur.

Saturday night, "The Supreme Question."

Sunday morning, the evangelist will speak to the entire Sunday School at 10:15 on the capital letter "D"; at 11 o'clock "The Finished Life of Christ."

After the morning sermon there will be a reception of members into the church.

Rev. Tucker will speak to men only at 3 p. m. "The Red Line of Sin" to fathers and sons.

"The Fragility of Indecision" will be the subject for the final message Sunday night.

'YKL' Tires Resist Heat, Last Longer,

A lot of motorists believe the old adage that "there is nothing new under the sun," but they are wrong, in the opinion of L. W. Flusche, local dealer for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.

"One has only to look at the advances made in tire construction to prove that the old adage is in error," Mr. Flusche declared. "Many are the improvements that have been made in tires, and of these, a big percentage have been made by Goodyear. Important Goodyear advances were the first straight-side tire, the first multiple-ply cord tire, the first pneumatic truck tire and the Life-Guard, the remarkable device that eliminates danger from tire failures at high speeds.

"Important advance in the truck tire field is the Goodyear 'YKL,' which is delivering almost unbelievable mileages in the most severe types of service. Operators whose tires popped without warning, after comparatively short service, due to the high speeds or heavy loads on long distance operations, are now able to get thousands of miles of trouble-free mileage with this new development.

"Secret of the 'YKL' is that its carcass is made of specially woven rayon fabric, instead of the conventional cotton. This rayon cord, called Rayotwist, enables the 'YKL' to build up long mileage due to its resistance to heat.

"Heat is the natural enemy of tire life, and especially does heat build up in truck tires in high-speed, long-distance hauling. Tensile strength of cotton fabric decreases as it heats up while tensile strength of Rayotwist decreases only slightly at high temperatures. Thus the 'YKL' eliminates failures from heat, gives the truck operator the mileage originally built into the tire."

Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated. Cardui, praised by thousands of women, is well worth trying. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.
